

THE OAKLAND MAGIC CIRCLE

Presents

A Lecture By

BRAD HENDERSON

Tuesday, January 7, 2020

Doors open at 6:00 PM - Lecture at 8:00 PM

Bjornson Hall, 2258 MacArthur Boulevard
Oakland, California

"Brad is one of the deepest thinkers in the world of magic." - Jeff McBride

"(Brad) has very strong opinions, and is not afraid to express them emphatically. If you see him perform, you'll realize that he backs up everything he says...." - Max Maven

Brad Henderson has been a lifetime student of magic and a working magician since his high school days. In addition to being an accomplished performer, he has collaborated on numerous projects with notables such as Michael Ammar, Bob Farmer, Jon Racherbaumer, Alain Nu and Jeff McBride. He has taught magic for over thirty years, authored two widely acclaimed books and has written extensively for Genii, Magic, MUM, and the Linking Ring.

Though specializing in sleight of hand and mind reading, Brad has explored nearly every branch of the mystery arts and has gained a reputation for being one of magic's most vocal defenders and critics.

The Lecture: Brad is perhaps best known for his analytical approach to creating magic and an explanation of this approach will be the foundation and framework of his lecture.

Using tricks as needed for illustrative purposes, he will discuss valuable ways of approaching magic, share theories and strategies that are essential to the creation of magic that reaches the level of an art form. Brad's goal will be to provide you with knowledge that should allow you as a magician to progress, improve and ultimately realize your own creative visions.

No charge to Oakland Magic Circle members with 2020 dues paid. Annual dues [$20] may be paid at the door.

Non Oakland Magic Circle members - $20.

☞ Non-members who wish to join the Oakland Magic Circle can attend the lecture at no charge if ☞ an OMC membership application is submitted and 2020 dues of $20 are paid at the door.